Open Meeting of Council Is Set for Tomorrow

Former Editor of 'Daily'
To Discuss War Effort

The poll again.
The results of the student poll published yesterday morning show beyond a doubt the opinion of representative sections of the McGill and Queen's campus on the question of inter-collegiate exhibition games. The returns from Western and Toronto have not been received at the moment this is being written, but all indications are that the results will be of similar proportions. "Okay," Joe College says, "we knew all that from the start. We want to know what is going to come of it all."

What Next?
That is certainly the next question that arises in connection with the problem, but no one is able at the present time to give a qualified answer.

The recent extension of the war zone has turned everyone's interest from sports to more serious problems, and this will continue to be the case so long as these shores are threatened. If the present state of tension is relaxed in the near future, and the government decides to allow students to continue their studies, then the problem can be squarely faced.

When the C.I.A.U. meets and the question is considered, the opinion of the students of the four Universities will be presented, and it cannot but be given consideration. Campus opinion is that if the students are, as mentioned above, permitted to continue their stay at college, then it would be a boost to student morale and to the war charities to hold a limited number of inter-collegiate athletic contests. This view has been shared by many of the prominent sports writers of the metropolitan dailies.

Bouquets in order.

Whether or not the suggestions of the students are put into practice by the authorities, a pat on the back is due to the group of students who had the initiative to undertake this project and give the lead to the other big eastern colleges. It was a noble effort, and if successful they will deserve no small share of the credit. If there are no tangible results, the student body can rest assured that their methods were probably the only ones that had even the possibility of success.

Assault at Arms and Smoker.

Next week will find the gymnasium floating with the brew that cheers (cokes for freshmen) as the assault at arms will be held in conjunction with the company smokers. The events will undoubtedly do much to bolster the esprit de corps, and the two-bit admission assures a good attendance. Cheese and crackers will be the solid refreshment served, to be accompanied by liquors of variable C₂H₅OH content.

Pre-Med Meeting
There will be a meeting of the Pre-Medical Society tomorrow at 5 p.m. in the Union Grill Room. The speaker will be Dr. Smith of the Pathological Institute. The club pins may be on hand to be distributed.

M.W.S.A.A. Managers
Managers please return record books today.

Leslie Roberts, writer and commentator, is to address the first open meeting of the War Council to take place in the Union Ball Room at 5.15 p.m. this Thursday. This is the first meeting which all students are free to attend, and a large crowd is expected.
Mr. Roberts, beside being the Editor of the Montrealer, Montreal's leading social magazine, has written a novel on the last war and two commentaries on public figures in Canada's capital. "These be your Gods" and "So this is Ottawa." In 1939, he wrote his latest work "We must be Free" which is the "reflections of a democrat."
Although Mr. Roberts was born in Wales he came to Canada as a small boy, and was educated at Montreal High School and later at McGill. Shortly after completing his second year in Arts, he joined the Air Force and went overseas to fight in the last war. After the war he came back to complete his education and was Editor of the McGill Daily around 1920.
Today Mr. Roberts travels extensively throughout Canada, studying the people and the political situation. He files a great deal, and has been to the far north. He will speak on the general aspects of the war to the university students and the part they can play in it.
Following the meeting, there will be a business meeting of the council.

Refugee Work in Europe Is Topic of Address

Maccabean Circle
Joins S.C.M. to Hear Rev. Peltz

The General Secretary of the International Hebrew Christian Alliance, Reverend Jacob Peltz, will address a joint meeting of the Student Christian Movement and the Maccabean Circle today in Strathcona Hall. All students are invited, and the meeting which will be in the form of a luncheon will take place at 1.15 p.m.

This meeting is of especial significance since it is the second time in recent years in the long history of the clubs that they have joined together to hear a speaker of mutual interest.
Mr. Peltz's work has brought him very close to the trials of the Jewish Christian victims of Nazi persecution, and he has travelled through Europe, the British Isles and Asia Minor in his efforts to relieve the suffering of the refugees. His headquarters is in London, where the Hebrew Christian Alliance has received the recognition of the British Government. In the course of his work he has visited such notable capitals as Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Prague, Warsaw, Cairo, (Continued on Page Four)

Brouillette Speaks On History of Quebec City

Professor Brouillette of the University of Montreal brought a new aspect of the field of Sociology before the members of the Sociological Society last night when he discussed the city of Quebec as it appears to the human geographer.

He chose the city of Quebec as his topic, he said, because it has been studied by the eminent scholar, Raoul Blanchard, and he divides the study of a city into three parts: its physiography, its historical evolution, and its modern aspect.
He discussed the location and the site of the city, its evolution through three periods, the Fortress, the French, and the English periods, and its modern functional value.

Movies to Be Shown At A.I.Ch.E. Meeting Today

A number of movies will be shown this afternoon at 5.00 p.m. at a meeting of the McGill branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in the main lecture room of the Chemistry Building.
The chief feature of this meeting will be the showing of a movie supplied by the Coca-Cola Company, which will depict parts of this company's process. Other films to be shown at the meeting will be one from General Motors, entitled "On to Jupiter" and a film showing the various phases of Canada's war effort.

The Executive has announced that the A.I.Ch.E. will hold a dance on Dec. 17th at the McGill Union. Also, as a final activity before the Christmas vacation, there will be a trip to one of the local breweries on Dec. 10th.

Coed Debaters Hold Contest

Impromptu
Talks to Be Given Friday

One of the most important events on the program of the Women's Debating Union is the Impromptu Speaking Contest. This contest will be held on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock sharp in the R.V.C. Common Room. The contestants are asked to sign the list which will be posted in the girls' common room in the Arts' building and on one of the notice boards in R.V.C. The speakers will be given their subject 5 minutes before they will speak, the duration of their speech being 5 minutes at the least and 8 minutes (Continued on Page Four)

Arts Debaters Are Chosen

Each Class Is Represented by
Two Debaters

Debaters to represent each of the four years of Arts and Science were chosen yesterday afternoon at the Annual Arts Debating competition. G. K. Greaves and F. Vosburg were chosen to speak for fourth year. Representing third year will be Vic. Dawes and L. Horlick. Second year will have S. R. Bross and W. Mahabir, while J. L. Kennedy and P. Newcombe will uphold the freshman. These men will all speak again before Christmas.

The second year was the only class having more than two persons competing in the debate. Both speakers chosen to represent this class were the winners in the second year group and upheld the negative side of the resolution (Continued on Page Four)

"Campus Life" Will Feature New Focus of College Lore

By E.H.

Last year it was "Don't Give a Damn" buttons and this year it is these gory "Blood Donor" buttons. Last year it was military boots and this year it is uniforms complete. This year flowing green bow-ties took the place of those meek little green ribbons. It is changes such as these which characterize a college year and which makes each term distinctly different from any other.

And so, according to Fred Paine, Photography Editor of the Annual, these are the changes which should be represented in the "Campus Life" section of "Old McGill '42." The Year Book at its best should picture not only college life in general but college life this year in particular.

The first contest for such pictures will close on Monday. A copy of the Annual will be

Voting Surpasses Last Year's Mark; Curry, Beck, Delvin, Yates, Stanford, Ritchie and Garcelon Are Successful

Coeds Choose Six Red Wings

Residents and
Non-Residents
Are Included

In conjunction with the Students' Council elections, the women students voted yesterday for the members of the Red Wings Society who were nominated to the six posts open. Fifty-four per cent. of those who had the right to vote exercised their franchise.

The Red Wings Society is the women's counterpart of the Scarlet Key on the Men's side. It is an honour society which tends to the introduction of prominent visitors to the University, and to their accommodation and entertainment. The task of ushering at college functions is also undertaken by them.

Six positions were open. Each of the first three years of R.V.C. was due to elect a resident and a non-resident representative. There were fourteen candidates for the offices.

Those elected are:—
First year:
Resident representative: Carol Babbitt.

Non-resident representative: Paty Dunton.

Second year:
Resident representative: Mary MacDonald.

Non-resident representative: Sheila Mappin.

Third year:
Resident representative: Mary Hall.

Non-resident representative: Joan Waterson.

Club to Announce Plans For Annual Xmas Party

The final plans concerning the Cosmopolitan Club Christmas party on Tuesday, will comprise the major part of the weekly to be brought up at the Business Luncheon Meeting in the grill room on Thursday.

The plans will be formed by a committee of eight at a special meeting tomorrow evening and are expected, stated a member of the executive last night, to differ considerably from the pattern of this event in past years.

In addition to the discussion of this business a short talk on Kenya Colony will be given by Peter Hall, the vice-president of the club.

Twenty-eight Are Elected, Seven Appointed to Scarlet Key Posts

The men voted, in the course of the elections yesterday, for representatives to the Scarlet Key. The Key is the male counterpart of the Red Wings Society, and functions in much the same way.

There were two classes of candidates, designated as Group A and Group B. The former consists of third-year, and the latter of second-year men. In the third-year group were thirty-six candidates, and in Group B were twenty-nine. Nineteen were elected from Group A, nine from Group B, and, to this latter division, seven were appointed.

The names of those who were chosen follow:—

Group A:
Arts and Science: Thomas K. Scoble, John A. Hall, Robert R. Kingsland, and Edward C. Gillespie.

Commerce: Ian F. Hellyer, Joseph S. Connolly, James W. McKee.

Dentistry: Ralph Edmison.

Medicine: Alan G. Thompson.

John W. McMartin, Bertram L. Holdredge, and Ronald M. Fyfe.

Engineering: Ross A. Ritchie, James D. Anderson, Rex M. Freeman and Charles H. Perreault.

Architecture: Martin J. Lambert.

Law: Paul Oulmet and William T. Stewart.

Group B:
Arts and Science: Robert M. Macintosh and Murray Robinson.

Commerce: Vaughan W. Marples and Robert N. Watt.

Dentistry: Robert H. Graves.

Medicine: Ronald H. MacPherson and John C. Likely.

Engineering: James G. MacLeod and John W. Kennedy.

Group B, Appointees—Named by retiring executive.

Terrance Leslie.

Arturo Calderon.

Earl Morris.

Stewart Willis.

Gerard Robinson.

Nelson Crutchfield.

Thomas L. Davies.

Law Results Not Announced

New Executive
To Take Over
Posts Shortly

An almost completely new Students' Executive Council was formed yesterday as voters in the various faculties marked their ballots and deposited them in the boxes. The polls remained open from 9.00 yesterday morning till 1.00 in the afternoon, and a slightly larger number of votes were recorded than in previous years.

The newly-elected representatives are Jean S. Curry for R.V.C., Clifton M. Beck for Arts and Science, Ross A. Ritchie for Engineering, A. A. Garcelon for Dentistry, Ronald L. Stanford for Medicine, L. E. Yates for Theology, and Donald C. Delvin for Commerce. Law has not as yet announced the victorious candidate in that faculty. The councillors will succeed immediately to their position.

Those whom they have supplanted are Mary Eddy, Thomas Mulligan, N. F. Retallack, A. L. Danforth, H. G. Owen, W. E. Powles and W. E. F. Johnson, respectively. The Law Faculty was represented last year by J. G. Kirkpatrick.

Permanent Officers.

The Students' Executive Council has for its chairman the President of the Students' Society, Mr. G. H. Fletcher is the permanent secretary, and the President of the McGill Union and the Editor-in-Chief of the Daily are members by virtue of their office. These positions are filled in March, when, according to custom they fall vacant.

The body of the Council is made up of the students elected from the various faculties, who are annually chosen in December. They come into office with the new year, when they assume in full duties of councillors. There will, however, be a joint meeting of the old and new members so that perfect continuity in the business before the Executive Council may be ensured, and that the novices might glean experience in the customs of the body.

Tolerance

The Maccabean Circle and the Student Christian Movement are this year continuing a very commendable function that they instituted last year. They are holding a joint meeting in the course of which they discuss their common problems.

The importance of tolerance, particularly religious tolerance, is a time-honoured and well-worn theme. Nevertheless its supreme timeliness must make everyone appreciate that the step these two groups have taken is concrete indication of what can be accomplished.

Further than this, it is worth noting that this step is taken by college groups. College students, glibly thinking themselves "the leaders of the future," are often too ready to accept this honour as a matter of fore-ordination and consequently do little or nothing toward realizing the toleration that must characterize democracy. The Maccabean and the S.C.M. are doing their bit toward avoiding this pit-fall.

These meetings, however, are not limited in scope to the McGill campus. For college students, through meetings of this kind, can show that the toleration that is simply a veneer with most people is much more deeply seated in their nature—thereby heightening in the public estimation the value of the universities' work.

Open Meeting

Mr. Leslie Roberts, well known editor of the Montrealer Magazine, is the first speaker scheduled to address the War Council in a new program being developed by this body.

The meeting is open to all students; this for two reasons. Students have asked for some such activity, and the Executive of the War Council feels that his words will be of interest and important not only to the members of the War Council, but to all students at McGill.

Mr. Roberts is well qualified to address

Christmas Issue

The Daily will issue a special Christmas edition December 18. The paper will be made up largely of features; including short stories, poetry, plays and articles. The material need not have a specific Christmas interest, but ought to measure up to respectable literary standards. A prize, in the form of a five-dollar War Savings Certificate will be awarded for the best creative effort.

Manuscripts must be typewritten on one side of the paper only, and double spaced. Otherwise, they will not be printed, regardless of their literary merit.

Contributions will be welcomed, and should be addressed to the Feature Editor and conspicuously marked: "Christmas Issue." They may be left at the Union Tuck Shop or downstairs in the Daily office.

the students; widely travelled and well known, he has gained a knowledge of life in Canada and in other countries such as few persons have had the opportunity to obtain.

The speaker will explain to students the outsider's viewpoint on the work of the universities; what students can do, what they are expected to do, and what the public thinks of the work they have already done.

We hope the students will show even more than their usual commendable interest in turning out to this, the first open meeting of the War Council, on Thursday.

The Dialectwister

Opera and Music.

Rise Stevens, lovely young American mezzo-soprano, will sing the lead role of Delilah in Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah," third opera to be broadcast this season direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, on Saturday at 3.00 p.m. (CBM and CFCF).

Rene Maisson, tenor, will sing the role of Samson. Others in the cast will include Leonard Warren, baritone, as the High Priest; Norman Cardon, basso, as Abimelech, and Nicola Mascona, basso, as an old Hebrew. Wilfred Pelletier will conduct.

A reunion rare in the annals of Met history will occur when Milton Cross introduces Miss Stevens to the world wide radio audience. Miss Stevens began her vocal career at the age of ten on a children's program of which Cross was the announcer.

Arturo Toscanini will conduct the second of two "Toscanini Treasury Concerts" by the NBC Symphony Orchestra on Saturday evening. (CBF 10.30 p.m.)

The program will open with Barber's "Adagio for Strings" which was performed by the NBC Symphony under Toscanini's baton in 1938. Barber, one of the best known American composers of his generation, is only 31 years old.

The second work on the program will be Dvorak's "Overture to Othello," one of the last works completed by the famous Bohemian composer before he left for America to head the National Conservatory of Music in New York.

To conclude his program, Toscanini has chosen Dvorak's famous "New World Symphony," which the composer wrote in America based on American themes.

Making his final appearance of the season as conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Dr. Artur Rodzinski conducts the orchestra in a program that includes the first performance of the ballet music "Filling Station" by Virgil Thomson, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune. (Sunday CKAC 4.00 p.m.) Sibelius' Violin Concerto in D minor, with Carroll Glenn, Schubert Memorial prize-winner, as soloist, is also on the program. The concert opens with the "Euranthe" Overture by Weber, and closes with "Till Eulenspiegel," by Richard Strauss.

Jean Beaudet, conductor of the CBC's Concert Hall of the Air, will present the distinguished local pianist, Paul de Marky, as guest artist on his next program. Mr. de Marky will play two of his newest compositions; the simple and melodious "Interlude Lyrique" for piano and strings, and "Scherzo" for piano and full orchestra. The broadcast will originate in Plateau Hall (Monday CBM 10.00 p.m.) Incidentally, admission is free for these broadcasts and all are welcome.

Scanning the Air Waves.

Another racket is knocked out for the count when Edward G. Robinson and Ona Munson get together for a "Big Town" drama. (CKAC 9.00 p.m.)... Dorothy Thompson, the arch foe of Nazism, speaks on the CBC series "We Have Been There" on Sunday (CBM 9.30 p.m.)... Ex Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will address an American Firstling Rally in Boston on Friday evening at 11.30 p.m. Lindy will have to do some fancy somersaulting to keep up with the times. This should be the Wonder Boy's masterpiece... H.M.S. Pinafore is to be the Gilbert and Sullivan offering next Monday evening in the Monday evening G. & S. series. (CBM 8.00 p.m.)

McGill Disgraced.

In one of its releases, the NBC Publicity Dept. makes the following abominable statement: "Dick Todd, baritone, was quite a groan and grunter (a wrestler) at McGill University in Toronto." The association of this great university with the name of the infamous suburb of Hamilton warrants an apology from NBC and we suggest the Student's Council demand one.

Varied Verse

Bombs Go Boom

There is one thing about bombs, doubt for which there is no room,
Which is that when they fall down they go BOOM.

The only time they are ever supposed to refuse
Is when they have no fuse,
Except sometimes a bomb turns out to be a dud,
And then it doesn't go BOOM at all, it simply goes: THUD.

But Sound Effects men are never happy if they simply let a bomb make its natural noise;
Oh no, they make it wail,
And expressions of discontent are what they usually mumble
Unless their bomb goes: BOOM—RUMBLE RUMBLE.

Now anybody knows that a plain ordinary bomb is much too humble
To go BOOM—RUMBLE RUMBLE.

To do that, a plain ordinary garden variety bomb wouldn't even presume,
It simply goes: BOOM.
Oh, it is simply horrible the way some movies resound

With artificial sound;
Because sometimes the hero and the heroine in the middle of a battle scene are trying to pitch a little woo,
And when he begins to speak it sounds something like this: "My darling I... BOOOM—RUMBLE RUMBLE... you!"

And it doesn't sound very clever
When she answers: "My darling, I'll be a... BOOOM—RUMBLE RUMBLE... to you forever!"

And when they kiss,
It sounds like this:
BOOM—RUMBLE RUMBLE;
So for this kind of dialogue there's no place like home, be it ever so humble,
Because neither one knows what the other has said and can only be guessing,
Which is it's only blessing.

Oh, how I'd like to make all sound effects men feel very, very silly;
It happened once, really,
Because once a movie was being previewed and it made the sound effects men feel like a boob.

Because the film was run in reverse by mistake and it was very funny, because his bomb went: ELBUMBUR ELBUMBUR—MOOOB! —LOCAL 41

The Distaff Side

By JUDY

Enthusiasm?

Jean Curry, Arts '43, is the new R.V.C. representative to the Students' Council. She takes over her office on January first from Mary Eddy, who has been presenting the co-ed's point of view for the past year.

Despite all exhortations, only 54 per cent. of the women students turned out to vote. Democratic self-government is impossible unless every student participates.

Sadie Hawkins Is Coming.

Sadie Hawkins, that popular hillbilly belle, will pay her annual visit to McGill after the mid-term exams. Instead of staying a week as previously, she will only remain for four days, from January 28-31. She will be welcomed at the Sadie Slide and given a terrific send-off at the Spinsters' Spree, held each year in R.V.C.

Art Group.

Mary Margaret Miller is head of the new Art Group that was formed under the guidance of Mr. Arthur Lismer after the R.V.C. Soiree last month. Mr. Lismer is aiming to present a comprehensive view of the history of art and the artists themselves, as well, as art appreciation.

An arts and crafts group will be organized after Christmas to do actual work in the studios of the Art Gallery, modelling, painting, and doing wood work, etc. There will be no charge for instruction, but just a nominal fee for materials used. This is a wonderful opportunity for those who have bemoaned the lack of fine arts courses at McGill. There are no qualifications, other than enthusiasm, for membership in the group. Anyone interested should get in touch with Mary Margaret Miller in R.V.C. as soon as possible. This group may possibly be open to men students as well.

Congratulations!

R.V.C. '43 had all of eleven people turn out for their last class meeting. Pretty fine showing, girls, more than twice as many as the time before.

Encore.

Due to the popularity of the dance given for the Air Force last month, R.V.C. is giving the boys in blue a Christmas Party on December 17.

Impromptu Speaking.

The R.V.C. Debating Society is running its annual impromptu public speaking contest on Friday afternoon. Requiring neither skill nor preparation, this contest is open to all women students. Topics, handed out two minutes before each co-ed is scheduled to speak, have seldom been serious in the past, and the reguils are usually side-splitting.

Measur In Our Midst.

A member of the "Daily" editorial staff was seen moving from table to table in Redpath yesterday afternoon. When queried about her restless activity, she explained that she was unsuccessfully trying to avoid the constant stare of a laddie in blue who had his eye fixed on her all afternoon. The day before he had directed his attention to a girl across the table who was struggling through tomes of abnormal psych. Maybe he's trying to put the magnetic beam to work.

AUTUMN...

There are few birds singing
At the setting of the sun,
But toward the south they're winging,
When the autumn has begun.
There are few birds singing,
But toward the south they're winging,
And their farewell calls are ringing
As they leave us one by one.

There are few leaves stirring
In the softly blowing breeze,
But the passing wings are whirring
Up above the naked trees.
There are few leaves stirring,
But the passing wings are whirring,
And their instincts are unerring
When the lakes begin to freeze.

There are few sounds shaking,
Through the hazy atmosphere;
There are fewer creatures waking,
At the waning of the year.
There are few sounds shaking,
There are fewer creatures waking,
But to rest themselves betaking,
Before winter time is here.

Musical Notes

Stravinsky Joins Faculty

The Berkshire Music Centre, the summer school at Lenox, Massachusetts, directed by Serge Koussevitzky and sponsored by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, announces its third season at Tanglewood, from July 5 to August 16 of 1942. Igor Stravinsky, the Russian composer, has joined the faculty and will take a class in composition, as will also Aaron Copland, who has been active in the school since it was founded. For Jones, Director of the Bach Choir of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, will join Hugh Ross in the training of the chorus, which will prepare Bach's "Magnificat" and Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. Dr. R. Mills Silby, Music Director of St. Ignace Loyola, New York, will assist in the large chorus and direct choral groups.

Special lecturers will include Archibald T. Davison, Professor of Choral Music at Harvard University; Howard Hanson, Director of the Eastman School of Music; Deems Taylor, composer and lecturer; Lucien Price, Editorial Writer of The Boston Globe; and Olin Downes, Music Editor of the New York Times, who is a member of the faculty.

Centre for Advanced Students and Amateurs.

The Centre has four departments for students who expect to have musical careers, orchestral and choral conducting, advanced orchestra and chamber music, composition, and opera. The fifth, and largest, the Department of Music and Culture, is planned to provide those less interested in professional performance—music students, teachers, college students and amateurs—with an opportunity for a summer of living and working in music. This department will have a large chorus and smaller choral groups, its own symphony orchestra and chamber music groups. There will also be classes in solfège and country dancing.

The Faculty.

The Orchestral Conducting classes will be in charge of Dr. Koussevitzky, assisted by Stanley Chapple. The Choral Conducting classes will be in charge of Hugh Ross and For Jones. The Advanced Orchestra will be under Richard Burgin, Stanley Chapple and other conductors, as will also the orchestra of the fifth department. Gregor Piatigorsky will again be in charge of the chamber music.

The Opera Department will be again directed by Dr. Herbert Graf of the Metropolitan Opera Company, assisted by Boris Goldovsky and Richard Rychtarik.

The Faculty includes thirty members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra who will assist in instructing members of the two orchestras and in coaching the chamber music groups.

For the 1941 season, the Center had an equal number of men and women students, and a total enrollment of 338. More than half were under 25, more than two-thirds under thirty, but the more mature students—music teachers, conductors, choir directors and others 35 and over—were also well represented. The students came from 34 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, and eight foreign countries. Early applications indicate a capacity enrollment for 1942. The general plan of the school, as outlined in a catalog now published, follows the pattern of the previous two seasons. This brochure is obtainable by application to Symphony Hall, Boston.

ONE-QUARTER OF STUDENT BODY ATTENDS CHURCH, POLL INDICATES

Cliché—Church attendance on the Michigan campus for the last three years has always been between 25 and 30 per cent. of the student body, a Bureau of Student Opinion record reveals.

This year's poll shows that 25.8 per cent. of the student body went to church on a representative Sunday. No records of general church attendance are available, but to equal the campus figure 7,000 Ann Arbor residents would have to attend the community's churches on a given Sunday.

Catholics Lead List.

Various breakdowns of the results make interesting reading. For example, the poll shows that 70.4 per cent. of Catholics attend church on a given Sunday as compared to 23.6 per cent. of Protestants, 7.7 per cent. of Jews, and 10.8 per cent. of all others questioned. Although only a quarter of the campus attends churches on a given Sunday, the poll indicates that only 28.7 per cent. of the students have never attended church while at Michigan. Contrary to popular conception, women are not better church-goers than men; 26 per cent. of campus males attend on a given Sunday and only 25 per cent. of the women, the poll indicates.

Editor, McGill Daily,

Dear Sir, I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who nominated me and supported me in the elections for the Students' Executive Council and for the Scarlet Key. Also, at this time I would like to congratulate Ross Ritchie upon his election to these two posts, and Charles Perrault, Rex Freeman and Jim Anderson upon their appointment to the Key.

tended church while at Michigan, the poll shows that the lawyers are the campus heathens (43.8 per cent. never), followed closely by medical students (37.5 never), while the engineering and literally colleges are nearly even with approximately 25 per cent. "never's" each.

'42 Similar to Lawyers.

As revealed by the poll, the class of '42 occupies a position among the classes similar to that of the lawyers among the colleges. Thirty-three per cent. never have gone to church while on campus. The classes of '44, '41, and '43 follow in order in the same classification.

Although 29.8 per cent. of rooming-house men attend church on a given Sunday, 32.3 per cent. have never attended, the poll reveals. On the other hand, 18.3 per cent. of fraternity men have never attended, the poll shows, but only 19.7 per cent. (less than rooming-house men) attend on a given Sunday.

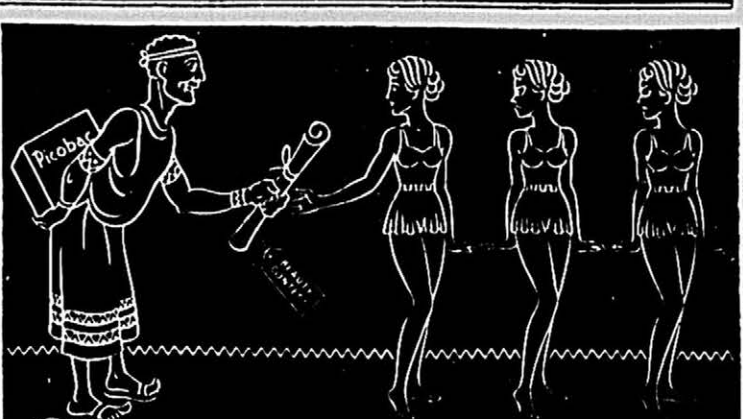

Sorority members make better church-goers than their Greek relations, fraternity men, 29.8 per cent. to 19.7 per cent. the poll indicates. Only 16.3 per cent. of present house student residents attended on a given Sunday, the poll shows.

The polls conducted by the Bureau of Student Opinion are based on a cross-section of the student body, modelled after the selective samples used in Gallup Polls. Frank Bender, '43 director of the poll explained. The cross-section is chosen at random from all sections of the campus and the possibility of error in the conclusions drawn are very small, he said. There is a greater margin of error in the breakdowns, he noted, than in a question involving the entire campus.—Michigan Daily.

Balance of schedule to be played in January.

Marine Pucksters Tangle With Air Force Today

Hockey Schedule Is Resumed After Slight Delay

This afternoon at 12.30 the Marines will take on the Air Force at the Forum. This is the fourth game of the season, the schedule having been disarranged slightly by the presence of a group of artists known as the "Ice Capades" troupe. The Aggies vs. Navy game, which was postponed, will be played at some future date.

Both today's teams have a great deal at stake. The Air Force will be trying for their first win of the season while the Marines will be doing its utmost to keep the lead it gained by defeating the Aggies. In order to keep this lead, the Marine team will have to win today. They want a comfortable margin between themselves and the second place Army team who has also won a game.

MARINES STRONG

Starting with today's game, the intramural schedule should see very few interruptions, that is, unless the Forum decides to put on some other feature attraction, and it is known that the "Ice Follies" have yet to come to our fair city. It is still a little too early yet to make any predictions as to the outcome of the present season. This much can be said however. If the Navy lads make as good a show throughout the rest of the season as they did in their first game against MacDonald College, then their chances are good of coming out on top. Their only threat so far has been the Infantry aggregation who are keeping right on their tails; but, again, it is early to make any predictions for the other two teams in the league who have yet to hit their stride.

The line up for today's game is as follows:

Navy.	Air Force.
B. J. Cleary	Fyfe
Earl Smith	Mac Dowall
Thompson	V. Young
Malenfant	B. Ward
Chown	Scobie
D. Burrows	Law
Ritchie	Hall

Swim Meet Tomorrow

Natators to Hold Forth At K. of C. Pool

The intercompany swimming meet will take place tomorrow afternoon at 5.30 at the Knights of Columbus pool. This will be the first time this season that the aquatic stars of McGill will have to show their stuff.

Most of the entries have been practising for some weeks and some very stiff competition is expected. The pre-engineers of F company are leading in the number of entries up to date; but every company in the M.R.T.B. is out gunning for top honours, with several entries in each event. As yet the league leading Independents have not placed any entries in the meet and if they want to remain at the top of the standing they will have to gain a few points in this meet.

EVENTS VARIED

This year the events have been varied enough to allow each would-be champion a chance to participate, and at the same time provide a great deal of interest for any fans who would care to come out and attend the meet. There are to be two free style events, one of 50 yards and the other of 100 yards, plus a backstroke and a relay race. These events will be topped off with a diving competition, and this will be the first time that diving has been included on the intercompany swimming card.

In order to add a little more interest to this meet, the athletic council has increased the amount of points awarded to the winners of each event. This will give the company which wins most of the events a chance to step out in front in the intercompany competition. This ruling will also tend to cut down the chances of a company which has entries in every event from running away with the meet.

Cagers See Four Games Defaulted

Only Engineers and Independents Turn Out

Basketball, this year, seems to be on the wane. Of the five games to be played last night, only one took place. This would indicate a lack of interest, or of enthusiasm, among the students of certain companies. C Company was the greatest offender having played neither of their scheduled games. The winners of the defaulted games are as follows: E1; Ind. 1; Ind. 5; Ind. 4. Ind. 2 beat E 4 by the score of 31-19. Pick-up games were held instead of the other scheduled ones by some of the members of the defaulted teams.

The first and only game played was between Ind. 1 and E 4. The score at the end of the first half was in favor of the Ind. by 14-4. This score was gathered by only two players, Beland and Robinson. Blocking and passing was the order of the day, and since these two stars were generally under the basket at the opportune time, they received most of the scoring opportunities. The game awayed back and forth from one end of the court to the other with both teams struggling to get into a scoring position. It was a fast and exciting game with thrills galore.

WILSON GOOD

The star for E4 was Wilson. This boy seemed to be everywhere at once and blocked many of the scoring chances for the Independents. The passing was impressive and many times the ball was in play for minutes. A final offensive was started in the last seconds of play by both sides and ended with the Independents the victors by a score of 31-19.

Today only two teams are scheduled to play, Mac. and the C.O.T.C. The pick-up games were played in a spirit of comradeship and no reference was there to supervise them. If a player committed a faux pas he would stop the game and say so. No scores were kept for these games but nevertheless every team was out to win.

The first round of the R.V.C. ping pong tournament is now finished. The second must be played today at the latest.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

People talk a lot about modern conveniences. They say "You should see the stream-lined can-opener I bought today. My goodness, what strides civilization is making."

Well, we don't contest the fact that civilization is making great strides. Just look at the people on this campus. But we are getting a bit bitter about these things called modern conveniences. Perhaps our star just wasn't lucky, because although some people can find modern can-openers that will open cans, we can't. We sneak into the pantry and surreptitiously drag out the old one that has been in the family for years.

Then there was that stocking-mender we thought was so smooth. Well, if it hadn't been for that we wouldn't know how to crochet today. The way we see it you have

Amateur Assault Combined With Intercompany Smoker

Next Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, there will be a combination assault-at-arms and smoker sponsored by the M.R.T.B. This will be of special interest to the Engineers, for liquid refreshments in the shape of beer, and some less palatable soft drinks will be served.

Monday night is set for A and C companies. On Tuesday and Thursday, E and G, and D and F companies respectively will hold forth. This arrangement allows all the Plumbers to be together on the same night, Tuesday; not Thursday as was reported yesterday. The planners have also given the caretakers time to clean up the gymnasium after the Engineer smoker—all day Wednesday.

The assault will feature boxing, wrestling, and fencing on an intercompany point basis. The former sports will be classed in 118, 125, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175, and heavy divisions. No men who have won any sort of company crown or anything from a city championship up, will not be eligible for the meet. Only amateurs may take part, and these need not be in condition, although this would be preferable.

The net cost of the evening will be twenty-five cents, and members may bring their friends. The M.R.T.B. band will be in attendance, and there will be a piano for a sing-song. Entries must be on the lists before the meet, in order that all those whose enthusiasm for boxing, wrestling, or fencing is stimulated by acute alcoholism may be protected from themselves.

It's Time to Call a Halt!

— says Private Thrift

It may be all right in peace time to throw money around. But with war on our hands it's time to call a halt.

We can't fight a total war and live like kings at the same time. We must all watch our spending and save. One of the best ways of saving money is to buy War Savings Certificates regularly. Money invested in War Savings Certificates now, helps directly to win the war . . . provides you with a useful fund of cash for the future.

U.K. Club Will Meet on Friday

New Group Will Elect Executive At Tea Party

Emulating the example of a large number of national groups at McGill, the students from the United Kingdom this year have formed a club of their own.

This group, known as the U.K. Club has not, as yet held any meetings, owing, a member of the executive announced last night, to the difficulty of finding and contacting the prospective members without the aid of the still unpublished Students' Directory.

However, all arrangements are now complete, and the first meeting of the new club is to be held in the chemistry building at 5 p.m. on Friday, Dr. R. V. V. Nichols, of the Department of Chemistry will be a special guest at the tea, which is to be served during the afternoon, and plans will be made regarding the future functioning of the club.

Another piece of business to be dealt with at this meeting will be the election of a permanent executive, following upon the resignation of the temporary executive appointed to set up the club.

The refreshments to be served at this gathering will include tea and cake, and will be free to any students from the British Isles.

and a spirit of good sportsmanship.

Whether this supplication of theirs will have effect is questionable. "Foul!" "No reaction." "I'm interested, but don't you dare send in my name!"—these are examples of replies to the query, "What is your reaction to the Campus Queen Contest?" But the Plumber usually achieve what they set out to do, so it seems reasonably certain, unless the coeds are sense-of-humourless, that a Queen will be crowned.

Faculty Representatives to Council Chosen

Students' Council is the keystone. It sets up committees for the organization and furtherance of student activities, and passes decision on all budgets. The Union, the Daily, the Annual, the Forge and other similar interests are dependent on the Council, particularly in a financial way. The Freshman Reception Program is its work, and, since this year, the War Council. Many of the campus clubs are also subsidized by the Council.

The best speaker will be awarded a prize and will also be considered when Debating "A's" and keyes will be awarded at the end of the year. The judges, all outstanding women debaters, are Mrs. A. K. Hugesson, president of the Canadian Woman's League and also a well known Montreal debater, and Mrs. Galt Danford, also well known in Montreal debating circles.

Anybody interested in debating (this includes Engineers) are cordially invited to either speak, or at least make an attentive audience for the speakers.

There will be a meeting of the Chess Club in the Union at 8 p.m. tomorrow evening. The results of the following tournament games have not yet been handed in: Ayoub vs. Eaton; Assaly vs. Rossy; Singer vs. Hardwick; Bishop vs. Stalker; and Rea vs. Druckman. If these results are not handed in at the Union tuckshop, or given in to Jim Atkinson, before noon today, the contestants concerned will both be eliminated from the tournament.

Notice

A special Xmas fare via C.P.R. to Winnipeg has been arranged if enough students are interested. A private car will be provided leaving about the 18th or 19th. Please contact M. V. Roche (LA. 9894) if interested as soon as possible.

Lost

Anyone finding a loose-leaf note book belonging to Mary McCrimmon please return to Mrs. Murray at R.V.C. as soon as possible. It is an ordinary medium size book with a McGill seal on the cover. Last seen in Chemistry 16 on Thursday.

Lost

A fawn wrap-around belt in Moyse Hall on Thursday morning. If found, please return to Bill Gentleman's office.

Lost

Would the finder of the tiny gold Bulova watch (black cordette wrist-band) that was left on the edge of a washbasin downstairs in the R.V.C. locker room on Fri. November 28th, between 1.15 and 1.45 kindly mail same to: Edna Arganovitch, 4400 Rivard St. Montreal. A REWARD of Five Dollars will be sent by return mail to any box number and address specified. Any expense incurred will be paid for. If a brief note of same is sent with the watch. No names need be mentioned. The watch has a sentimental value. A description is being sent to all pawn shops, and also to all jewellers of the vicinity. Any information will be welcome.

R.V.C. Minutes

The Round Table Conference was held in the Women's Union Room in R.V.C. on Nov. 4.

The Secretary read the minutes of the last Round Table Conference. Approved.

Sylvia Grove said a few words about the McGill Council of War and how the clubs could help in their war effort. Reports of activities for the coming year were given by the Presidents of all clubs obtaining financial aid from the Women's Union and also by the Class Presidents. Joan Edward outlined the plans of the Program Committee for the coming year.

It was moved and seconded that the Women's Union should hold its Buffet Supper as in former years. Margery Gaunt undertook to look after tickets and Marian Francis was elected chairman of the Buffet Supper Committee. Carried.

It was moved and seconded that there should be a Sadie Hawkins Week, though probably in more concentrated form, this year. Carried.

It was moved and seconded that there should be three round table conferences per year. Carried.

The question of doing something to entertain the Air Force unit now stationed on the campus was raised and discussed. A committee of three was drawn up and unanimously approved. These are: Gibson Beatty, Betty Blindman, Janet Hamilton. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned.

On Nov. 11 there was a short meeting of the executive of the Women's Union. The President, Treasurer, Secretary and President of the M.W.S.A.A. were present.

The President raised the question of redecorating the Women's Common Room in the Arts Building.

It was moved and seconded that the Women's Union should co-operate with the M.W.S.A.A. in buying two brown leather desk blotters for their room.

It was decided to elect two liaison workers for Red Cross. One to work in connection with the McGill Branch, Karlene Norton, and one to look after volunteer work at headquarters' house—Peggy Davis.

Other topics discussed were: the coming Air Force Dance, the date for the Buffet Supper, and the Salvage Campaign. Mary Eddy is to be asked to be in charge of this last.

It was moved and seconded that the Women's Editor of the McGill Daily should be invited to attend executive meetings.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully Submitted,
DOROTHY M. MURRAY
(Signed) SYLVIA GROVE (Pres.)

THE GENUS "INTELLECTUAL"

Editor's Note.—The views expressed herein are entirely those of the author. His name may be obtained at the point of a gun.

Intellectuals can be classified very neatly, into four distinct groups:

- 1—The intellectual.
- 2—The intellectual bore.
- 3—The intellectual boor.
- 4—The intellectual heel.

The intellectual, the pure, the genuine, the sincere, the academic intellectual, is a very rare specimen. They are so rare that if you ever come across one throw a net around him and keep him. Put him in a glass cage—set aside definite visiting hours—charge a quarter a person and your fortune is made.

A woman cannot be an intellectual.

The intellectual bore is a more common specimen. He is bred in small rooms and in public libraries. Fortunately, however, he is usually a gentle type and may be dismissed in a very gentle fashion. The best weapon is discouragement. The morale of an intellectual bore is very low. It is almost zero. Contradict everything he says. Call him a liar. Call him a fool and an idiot. While he is speaking turn about and walk away. Shoot him.

A woman cannot be an intellectual bore.

The intellectual boor is in a class by himself. He is bred in the big cities and often spends some time at a university. He has halitosis of the intellect. (Good phrase, that—too bad I did not think of it myself.) These fellows are the individualists. They go about without haircuts. They dress in a most slovenly fashion. They swear lustily—if there are enough people around to hear them. They eat noisily and get violently drunk at every opportunity. They can quote reams of poetry and sing dirty songs. They have a great reputation for being great lovers—but this is highly exaggerated (especially by themselves). An intellectual boor cannot be a bore. If you handle them with extreme caution they can be very amusing. They can be shot.

A woman cannot be an intellectual boor.

Now we reach the principal one—the intellectual heel. These are a combination of the first three—plus a few characteristics of their own. They are bred almost exclusively in universities. First class intellectual heels have money—money which they can obtain without working. They are a very crafty set and very difficult to recognize. They are slippery and slimy and thus avoid your grasp. As a rule they are not very good-looking, but possess what their victims are wont to call a strange fascination (this is not to be confused with their money). If you see one, lock up your wife, your sister, your daughter—if you see two, lock yourself up.

To the women only one word—BEWARE. Their methods are deadly and decisive—they spell RUIN. They know women perfectly. To them the knowledge of women is an art. They know that all women, despite their noisy hopes and gestures, are still in a primitive state of ego, sex and absurdity. They know that the emotions and the psychology of women are still in a state of servility, subordination, inferiority and inadequacy. They also have shown that any woman is available to the highest bidder—to the shrewdest exploiter. They know the evil technique of reputable women. They know that women lack self-respect—for the simple and obvious reason that they have no SELF to respect.

Yes, yes, beware of the intellectual heel.

They give a woman a soul—flatter that soul—train that soul—and then take it away again. They have a fine technique; they attack women from their weakest point—the mind. They work from within.

The intellectual heel has succeeded (after many years of concentrated effort) to build a great wall of defence around themselves. That is, they can have anything excused just because they are intellectuals. A man finds one with his wife and would shoot him—but the wife screams, "Stop. He is an INTELLECTUAL!"

"He is a HEEL," growls the man.

"Yes," sobs the wife, "AN INTELLECTUAL HEEL."

Then the husband makes a bad mistake. He does not shoot him—he talks to him. He tries to reason with him. He explains the folly of his ways. This is a grave and disastrous error. The intellectual heel is a master of words. Words—phrases—sentences are his surest weapon. He quotes with ease and grace some obscure poet—some unknown source. His eyes can sparkle at will. His hands can assist his words by moving gracefully through the air and creating beautiful patterns. Do not talk to them—shoot them.

A woman can be an intellectual heel.

—MANITOBA.

THIRD FLOOR BACK

The door swings noiselessly back under the left hand carrying one with it almost to the centre of the room.

A small window directly opposite place inkpot, with a pen sticking familiarly out of it, gives the assurance that the desk is not that fearful thing it greatly resembles.

Almost in the middle of the room, but a little to the left, a huge pillar, emerging out of the gloom, casts an ugly shadow on the front part of the left side of the room and all but completely conceals the back part. One gets a faint impression of a file, rows and rows of books along the wall, as on the opposite side of the room, and somewhere, among the books a pair of feet!

Suddenly the tomb-like stillness is broken by a deep voice which seems to come from the depths of a cavern behind the pillar: "Do you want to see me or Gundy?" The rest is lost in the confusion of mind as one stumbles forward and places an essay on the desk at the right—Argosy.
